'Progress is a Consequence of Your Vision'

A teenager's life is no less than a roller coaster ride. Studies or career having a clear idea of your path in life is must. If you have clearly visible goal in life it would be easier for you to achieve it and make progress. Usually you achieve the things that you view in your mind first. Thus your progress is a consequence of your vision. First you identify what you want to achieve, and then commit yourself wholeheartedly in reaching your goals. The next step is to develop action plan to reach your goals, track your progress towards your goal, and celebrate your Success. When children reach their goals, they learn to believe in their abilities and are more likely to set new goals for themselves in the future. Make sure your goals should be SMART - Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Relevant, and Time definite. But remember do not get discouraged by failure! Failure is the first step in learning.
